

Sue Horowitz

Sue Horowitz is a singer-songwriter from the rocky coast of Maine. Sue has traveled all over North America to share her music and teach at congregations, homes, concert venues and conferences. Her music has been included in numerous publications and is used in worship in many communities. Sue's three Jewish CDs have their roots in liturgy, values, and Torah; her recent folk CD draws influence from the singer-songwriter and American folk traditions. On them, you can find tunes that range from lyrical to bluesy, and from meditative to joyous.
